

A SEMINAR FOR PARENTS, CARERS AND PROFESSIONALS

TRANSITION TO ADULT LIFE for young people with SEN

Housing, benefits and financial planning for adulthood

Tuesday 14th November 2017, central London 10am to 2.30pm
Action for Kids, together with The Advocacy and Support Partnership, are delighted to present the latest in their series of flagship seminars for parents, carers and professionals, covering issues related to special educational needs and disabilities.

Seminars are only £15 (including lunch) for parents and carers, and £45 for professionals, and can be booked using the link below.

Transition to adult life at 18 for young people with SEN and disabilities requires good planning. Come and hear expert speakers on the following:

- Understanding housing and supported living options.
- How do benefits work once young people reach 18?
- How to support vocational training and employment.
- Understanding wills and trusts and financial planning.

Keynote speakers:

- Steve Harris, Reside Housing Association
- Graham Duncan, Chief Executive Action for Kids
- Ian Smith, Business Relationship Manager at the DWP

Sign up by clicking below or email Alex Johnson at info@advocacyandsupport.co.uk

BOOKING LINK: Transition to Adult Life for young people with SEN

St Alban's Centre, Baldwins Gardens, London, EC1N 7AB

from 10am to 2.30pm and include lunch.

Nearest tube: Chancery Lane (Central Line). Map link